UNIDENTIFIED FAMILIES

As a result of the search for Shurtleffs since embarking on this project, many were found who could not immediately be identified as descendants of the first William. Subsequent research, with the aid of professional genealogists, has bridged the gap for some of these. Forebears have been found and their lineages have been listed.

There are, however, fifteen ancestors of Shurtleff families who could not be so connected with information now in hand. Of these, the ten families included in this section have enough authenticated data and sufficient numbers of descendants that it seemed advisable to list them with the hope that their inclusion might lead to future successful research.

The missing data seems frequently to have been lost in the constant movement of settlers in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries between New England, New York State and Canada, extending later to the west. It is only natural that records of marriages, births, christenings, deaths, wills and land transfers should be imperfectly kept. Hence, blank walls are numerous but not necessarily permanent.

These names have not been included in the index because no numbers could be allocated to trace them back to their ancestors whose generations were not known.

Sola Nobilitas Virtus

Pedigree of Shiercliffe of Ecclesfield Hall, Whitley Hall, etc.

Arms.—Or, a fess between three greyhounds' heads erased sable collars and rings gules.

Crest.—On a torce or and sable a falchion erect enfiled with a leopard's face or.

Motto.—Sola Nobilitas Virtus. (Virtue is the only nobility.)

Explanation

Or is gold. Sable is black. Gules is red.

The fess is one of the honorable ordinaries formed by two horizontal lines drawn across the field, comprising the centre third part of the escutcheon. It is emblematic of the military girdle worn round the body over the armor.

The shield, or escutcheon, is the principal object whereon the emblems, or charges, of heraldry are depicted, and varies much in shape. The surface or space within the bounding lines of the shield is called the field.

Erased is forcibly torn from the body; a head, limb, or other object erased, has its severed parts jagged.

The torce, or wreath, is formed of two pieces of silk twisted.

A falchion is a broad sword.

Erect is upright.

Enfiled is pierced through.

The helmet is a well known object and varies in shape in different ages and countries. Its use is entirely optional and should never be mentioned in a blazon of arms. Its place is between the shield and crest, resting upon the former and supporting the wreath on which is the crest.

APPENDIX

In the "Descendants of William Shurtleff published in 1912, an appendix in the second volume, pages 535 to 555, contained material from Joseph Hunter referring to the Shiercliffe family of Ecclesfield, England. His letter, which appears below, encourages the belief but offers no proof, that the Shurtleff family of America was an offshoot of the Ecclesfield family. He followed the letter with a history of Ecclesfield and the Shiercliffe family, including in the latter a transcript of the baptisms, marriages and deaths from 1447 to 1619, probably taken from Alfred Scott Gatty's transcript of Ecclesfield Parish registers. Since Joseph Hunter was apparently a careful historian and genealogist, and since neither he nor subsequent genealogists have been able to prove the connection (see Foreword of Volume I), I limit myself herewith to reproducing his first letter and paraphrasing and shortening his material as follows:

"Letter from Mr. Hunter to Nathaniel B. Shurtleff

30 Torrington Square, London
November 12, 1849.

Dear Sir,

I beg to return my best thanks for your obliging present of a tract which contains so complete and exact an account of the persons who were in the memorable May-Flower of 1620. It is a very welcome and valuable addition to the New England department of my small library.

Your surname excites in me interest and curiosity. The name is so peculiar and so rare, that despite the many varieties in the mode of writing it, all who bear it may be presumed to be of the same lineage, and it happens that among my earliest genealogical researches was the investigation of the descent of two or three branches of the family who flourished near what I conceived to have been the original seat of the family. And this led me to collect a good deal of information respecting it, the choicer parts of which are inserted in a book which is known perhaps little if at all known in America, a folio volume printed in 1819 entitled "Hallamshire: The History and Topography of the Parish of Sheffield." The fess between 3 grey-hounds' heads which was granted them by Sir Richard St. George in 1614 was in allusion to an office which some of the family had held, that of Master of the Game in Hallamshire. A curious rhyming inscription on one of them who held this office, has lately been replaced in the Church of Ecclesfield by their descendants. Few of the name remain in England, and the estates have passed either by sales or heiresses to other families. You cannot I fear connect your branch, specifically, with the parent stock, but I trust I may congratulate you on its having taken good root and flourished in the new soil.

I have the honor to be, Sir

Your very faithful and obedient servant

Joseph Hunter."

The Parish of Ecclesfield is bounded on the south by Sheffield. The Parish church and the village of Ecclesfield are roughly five miles from the City of Sheffield. Shiercliffe Hall, within the Parish, was an estate descended from Sir Robert de Mounteney in the time of Henry III. In the time of Henry VI the manor house of Shiercliffe was held by Thomas Mounteney. In the reign of Henry VIII the line ended in a female heiress. In the course of the 19th century Shiercliffe Hall was in the hands of various tenants of the Duke of Norfolk. Of the original edifice nothing remains but a modern house at or near the site which was occupied (1909) by a Watson family. It is about four miles from Sheffield.

Whitley Hall was a more recent residence of the Shiercliffe family. It is about a mile from the church. It is a very old mansion and is still in use with surrounding land under cultivation. In 1616 Thomas Shiercliffe purchased it from the Parkers. Thereafter it remained in the family until about 1803-1810 when a female heiress sold it. It is of solid stone and stone slate. The main body of the house is about thirty-four feet wide.

No name appears more frequently in the early court rolls of Ecclesfield than Shiercliffe (spelt in more than fifty different ways), and there is little doubt that it was indigenous to the neighborhood. The name may come from Shiercliffe Hall where the Mounteneys had their seat. The earliest record found is in the court rolls of 1334 when Nicholas de Shiercliffe seeks to be admitted to the Rood of Shiercliffe.

The arms and crest were confirmed to William Shiercliffe of Ecclesfield Hall by Richard St. George whose certificate was in 1819 in possession of Miss Elizabeth Gunning of Swanswick, near Bath, a scion of the family who had resided at Whitley Hall.

The Parish Church at Ecclesfield is a very old one. It was dedicated to Saint Mary the Virgin, and is probably near the site of a Saxon monastery. Probably the first Norman church was built there in 1075.

It is not known when the present church was built but it was a wealthy Parish in the early 16th century, with ornamental windows, including one dedicated to Thomas Shiercliffe, Master of Game in Hallamshire. These are no longer there but in the floor of the south chancel of the church lie many memorials of the Shiercliffes, variously spelled.

THUNDER AND LIGHTNING AND SUDDEN DEATHS AT MARSHFIELD IN 1658 AND 1666.

In the early days of New England, the town of Marshfield, in the Colony of New Plymouth, suffered very much from the effects of lightning. An account of two strokes, of particular severity, is contained in a letter to Rev. Increase Mather, pastor of the Second Church in Boston, from Rev. Samuel Arnold, pastor of the Church in Marshfield, and in an accompanying manuscript written by Captain Nathaniel Thomas, also of Marshfield. Both are very graphically related from the testimony of eye-witnesses to the terrible events. The first of these occurred on the thirty-first day of July, in the year 1658; when John, a son of Mr. John Phillips, while in company with Captain Thomas, the narrator, was instantly struck dead, without any injury to his companions. In the manuscript, which was written about twenty-five years after the occurrence, it is stated that this happened in August; but Rev. Mr. Arnold wrote in the margin of the manuscript the following words, probably obtained from some other person, whose testimony was equally as good and more positive: "the time as I am certainly informed was the last day of July 1658." In this, Rev. Mr. Arnold is sustained by Mr. Secretary Morton in his New England's Memorial, and by the verdict of the jury of inquest held upon the body of the deceased (John Phillips) on the day of the melancholy occurrence, and which was recorded soon after among the proceedings of the General Court of the Colony of New Plymouth. The second stroke of lightning occurred on the twenty-third day of June, in the year 1666; and produced its dreadful effects upon the numerous inmates of the house of the same Mr. Phillips, whose son had been killed by the former stroke. The relation of this is by Rev. Mr. Arnold, pastor of the Church in Marshfield, at the time that it happened, who received the account from Timothy Rogers, one of the persons who was present at the time of the calamity, and who was also one of those that were struck down by the fatal stroke. By this, Mrs. Phillips, the wife of the aforesaid John, and his son, and also Mr. William Shurtleff, were killed on the instant of its occurrence. Although diligent search has been made in the various town, county and colonial records, no evidence can be found that any inquest was ever held upon the deceased. The last event is noticed in most of the written diaries of the day, and also in the histories of the Colony. Secretary Morton gives a very detailed account of it in the Memorial, as does also Rev. Timothy Alden in his account of the religious societies in Portsmouth, N. H. John Josselyn, in his "Chronological Observations of America," printed in 1674, mentions it thus: "Three kill'd in a moment by a blow of Thunder at Marshfield in New-Plimouth colony, and four at Pascataway colony, and divers burnt with lightning, a great whirlwind at the same time." In the diary of John Hull, the famous mint-master of the Massachusetts Colony, the fact is recorded without any mention of the name of town or persons, or the exact day of its occurrence. Rev. William Hubbard, in his history, erroneously uses the name of John for William, in stating that "in the year 1666, there were in like manner suddenly killed in a storm of thunder, whereof one was named John Shurtleff, that had a child in his hand, and was holding his wife in the other, both of whom escaped, when himself was struck dead." These occurrences are so accurately described and well related in the letter and manuscript already alluded to, that they are given here in the exact words of the writers, the peculiarities of the spelling, punctuation and style being followed with great care.

LETTER FROM REV. SAMUEL ARNOLD

Reverend Sir I salute you in the Lord & have according to your desire indeavoured to giue you the best information I could obtaine respecting the 2 terrible stroakes by thunder & lightning that were in our toune by enquiry of such as were eye witnesses of these awfull dispensations being as brands pluckt out of the burning. As for the first in July last day 1658. I refer you to the enclosed paper which I obtained from Capt: Nath:Thomas written with his oun hand.

As for the second being on June 23.1666. we being sorely distressed with drought had on the 4th day of the week made our address to the most high God by humble fasting & prayer, the drought continued till the last day of the sayd weeke on which day it pleased God to answer us by terrible things in righteousness who was yet the God of our salvation, for about the middle of the sayd day there arose in the north the most dismall black cloud I thinke that ever I saw our eyes were fixed upon it so pinching was the drought we feared least it should go beside us & so terrible was the aspect of it that we trembled least it should come ouer us, but God that steers the course of the clouds so disposed that it came directly ouer our toune & it was extreamly darke & thundred & lightnd dreadfully, & ther being in the hous of John Phillips (father to the foresayd John Phillips slaine by the former stroake) the number of 14 persons the woman of the hous calling earnestly to shut the dore which was done, instantly a terrible clap of thunder fell upon the hous & rent the chimney & split the doore in many places & struck most of the persons if not all. Timothy Rogers my informer told me that when he came to himselfe he saw the house full of smoake & there was a terrible smell of brimstone & that fire lay scattered all about the floore whether the fire that was upon the hearth by the vjolence of the stroake hurled about the hous or fire from heaven he kn not, he thought at first that all the people had been dead but himselfe till it pleased God to reviue the most of them, but 3 of them were mortally struck with Gods arrows that they never breathed more (viz) the wife of John Phillips & a son of his about 20 yeers of age or upwards and one Willj. Shertly who having been a little before burnt out of his oun hous & was with his family a present sojourner there, who had (as is sayd) a little child in his armes which was wonderfully preserued, there was also a dog slaine under a table behinde 2 little children sitting as is sayd upon the table ledge the wife of the sayd Shertly being big with childe neer her full time was gracjously reviued & notwithstanding both stroak & fright seasonably & mercifully deliuered we may say as Elihu Job 36.31 by them he judges the people & giues meat in abundance the Lord guide that we may sing of mercy & judgment & walk uisely in a perfect way untill he come onto us, & the Lord guide your son & croune your pjous indeavours both by tongue & you with a blessing to the promoting of his oun glory the good of the present & after generatjons which shall be the prayer of him who desires an interest in your prayers &

Marshfield July 28, 1683.

A BRIEF SKETCH OF THE TOWN OF MARSHFIELD

During the first few years of the settlement of the Plymouth Colony it was the policy of our fathers to concentrate all matters of government, whether parochial, municipal, or colonial, in the place where they first settled, and therefore Plymouth was the only incorporated town in the colony. Consequently, although many of the most important men dwelt at a considerable distance from this settlement, they were all obliged to perform political duties and attend religious services in this town, to their no small hindrance and trouble. About the year 1632, the inconvenience of going to Plymouth for everything being so great, a few precincts were formed, which were subsequently incorporated into towns. To prevent as much as possible a removal of the better sort of persons from Plymouth, it was advisable to apportion some of the land which was a little remote to such special persons as would promise not to remove, but who would cultivate by servants in their employ such land as farms. Allotments were therefore made of land at a place called Green's Harbor, where no grants had ever been made. This constituted the beginning of the town of Marshfield; which, although it contained a very fair proportion of the intelligent members of the colony, was not incorporated until sometime afterwards. It was known to the aborigines as Missaucatucket, and was first called by the Plymouth people Rexame. On March 2nd,1640/1 Josias Winslow was "sworne to execute the office of Constable there" [Rexame] "until June come twelue months." The name Marshfield first appears in the records on the 1st of March, 1641/2. It was first represented in the colonial government in the year 1642 by Thomas Bourne and Kenelm Winslow as Deputies, Edward Winslow and William Thomas, inhabitants of the same town, being at the same time Assistants.

Our excellent fathers watched diligently over the religious interests of new towns, and took special care that a good ministry should be sustained and that those who had the charge of dispensing the divine word should be particularly provided for the bestowment of land. In furtherance of this, and for the benefit of the future minister of the territorial district which afterwards was incorporated as Marshfield, the following Court Order was passed on the 3rd of March, 1639/40, at a time when there was a controversy between this precinct and the town of Duxbury, concerning their boundary line: "Whereas there is a controversy between Greens harbour & Duxborrow about the lands between the fresh of Greens Harbour riuer and the South Riuer It is ordered and granted by the Court of freemen to Mr. Edward Winslowe & the rest of the Neighbourhood of Greens Harbour a competent porcon of vplands and meddowe betwixt the said Riuers for a farme for a minister and one other competent porcon of land nere vnto the said lot for the minister either for Nehemiah Smyth or some other as the said Inhabitants of Greens harbour shall place in." In regard to religious instruction, the people of Marshfield were singularly fortunate in possessing for their early teachers, men of excellence, learning and ability. To one of these we are indebted for the preservation of the particulars of the melancholy event which terminated the life of our progenitor. The first pastor of the Church at Marshfield was Rev. Richard Blinman, a Welchman, who came to New England through the influence of Governor Winslow. He was admitted to the freedom of the Massachusetts Colony on the 7th of October, 1641, having been previously propounded at Plymouth on the 2nd of March, 1640/1, and soon after removed to Marshfield, where he remained only a very short time. He afterwards was at Gloucester, New London and New Haven, and finally returned to England, and preached in

Bristol, where he died at an advanced age. That he was ever settled over the Church, so as to entitle him to be considered its pastor, is doubtful; but the offices which he performed may, through courtesy and with propriety, give him the title, which he perhaps did not have by a regular settlement, according to the custom and manner of the time, over the Marshfield Church. Rev. Edward Bulkeley, the eldest son of Rev. Peter Bulkeley of Concord, was the second pastor of the Church of Marshfield. He was settled after the year 1642, and left, in 1658, for Concord, where he was afterward settled, as the successor to his father, in 1660. He was admitted to the fellowship of the First Church in Boston on the 22nd of March, 1634/5, as a "singleman"; and was dismissed from the same Church on the 15th of August, 1641, in the following words: "Our brother Mr. Edward Buckley was by ye Churches silence consented to be dismissed to ye Church at Concord vpon his & their desire." He was admitted to the freedom of the Plymouth Colony on the 5th of June, 1644. He died, in a good old age, on the 2nd of January, 1695/6, at Chelmsford, and was interred at Concord. Rev. Samuel Arnold, the third pastor and the author of the letter previously printed, was settled over the church in 1658. He was admitted to be a freeman of the Colony of New Plymouth on the 7th of June, 1653, having been propounded for freedom on the 3rd of June of the previous year. He was, probably, an early inhabitant of Sandwich, where, in 1643, there was a person of the same name of suitable age to be enrolled among those who were able to perform military duty, he being at that time the only individual in the Colony known to bear that name. Subsequently a Samuel Arnold, undoubtedly the same, was at Yarmouth, where he had a son Samuel born on the ninth day of May, in 1649. He continued with the Marshfield Church until his decease, which occurred on the 1st of September, 1693. He was succeeded in the ministry by Rev. Edward Tompson in 1696. Mr. Arnold was present at the inquest on the dead body of John Phillips, Jr., being one of the jurymen; and, as this jury was very exact in reporting the precise time of the occurrence, which happened on the day on which the inquest was held, it is presumed that he had no doubt as to the time, although Captain Thomas gave the wrong month in his manuscript. Captain Nathaniel Thomas, the author of the manuscript in Mr. Arnold's letter, was probably the grandson of William Thomas, a man of much distinction among the early settlers of Plymouth. The progenitor, and his son Nathaniel, came very early from Wales, and were among the first inhabitants of Marshfield, where they severally served the colony and town many years, in very important trusts, with great credit. The elder Mr. Thomas was one of the "Purchasers or Old Comers," and was held in much esteem by the colonists, who in 1642, and annually until his decease, chose him to the honorable and responsible office of Assistant. He died, according to the inscription on his grave-stone in Marshfield, in the month of August, 1651, being in "about the seventy eighth year of his age." His character is faithfully given by Secretary Morton, in the New England's Memorial. The son, Captain Nathaniel Thomas, Senior, died on the 13th of February, 1674/5, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. His descendants have been numerous in Marshfield, Plymouth, and several other towns which formerly were comprised within the jurisdiction of the Old Colony of New Plymouth. He had an only son named Nathaniel, who in 1683, the same year in which Rev. Mr. Arnold's letter was written, was also styled Captain. This son was born about the year 1644; and, consequently, was only fourteen years old at the time of the decease of Phillips, in 1658, while his father was about fifty-two. As both of these bore the same title,—as the father died in 1674/5, eight years before Mr. Arnold's letter was written,—and as the son was alive in 1658, although very young,—it is somewhat doubtful which of the two wrote the manuscript, which, unfortunately, neither signed nor dated. The second Nathaniel Thomas died on the 22nd of October, 1718, at the age of seventy-four years. He served in the famous war against Philip, the Chief of the Narraganset Indians, and performed many other important services for the town and colony. Mr. Timothy Rogers, the eye-witness to the terrible event of June, 1666, was a son of Mr. John Rogers of Duxbury, and grandson of the Thomas Rogers who came passenger in the Mayflower in the memorable voyage of 1620. In 1681, although he had not attained the age of sixty years, he was exonerated from bearing arms on account of lameness. The town of Marshfield numbered among its inhabitants some of the most respectable families and useful individuals in the colony. Among them were those bearing the names of Winslow, Sprague, Bourne, Waterman, Bradford, Howland, Adams, Snow, Eames, Holmes, Weston, Dingley, Russell, Sherman, Williamson, Barker, Beesbeech, Bisbee, Beare, White, Ford, Truant, Chillingsworth, Carver, and Rouse. These are the names of the principal inhabitants previous to the year 1666. Some of them were in the town only a short time, and finally settled elsewhere; while others remained there for several generations. In August, 1643, forty-nine of the inhabitants of Marshfield were enrolled as being able to do military duty, they being between the ages of sixteen and sixty years. On the earliest list of freemen, probably taken during, or about, the year 1644, there were only eleven names of persons who belonged to the town of Marshfield. These were in the orthography of the record as follows:

Mr Edward Winslow
Mr Wm Thomas
Josias Winslow
Kanelme Winslow
Mr Thomas Bourne
Mr Edw Buckley
Robte Waterman
John Dingley
Thom Shillingsworth
John Russell
Mr Nathaniel Thomas

The number of "The names of such as have taken the Oath of Fidelity of the Toune of Marshfield in the yeare 1657" was twenty-seven. A list, which appears to be of freemen, without date, but evidently prepared in 1658, contains twenty-six names. The freemen in 1664 were thirty-two in number. Among them was William Shurtleff. In May, 1670, there were twenty-nine freemen. In March, 1683/4, the number amounted to sixty-three and contained such names as Foster, Crooker, Little, Dogget, Branch, Hewet, Sylvester, Walker, King, Macall, Wood, Read, Staniford, Childs, Baker, Sayer, Taylor, Rogers, and Stevens.

The INDIAN CAPTIVE; or a NARRATIVE OF THE CAPTIVITY AND SUFFERINGS OF ZADOCK STEELE, husband of Hannah (5) Shurtleff (see No. 96). RELATED BY HIMSELF. To which is prefixed an Account of the BURNING OF ROYALTON. Hath this been in your days or even in the days of your fathers? Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and THEIR children another generation.—Joel. MONTPELIER, VT. Published by the Author. E. P. Walton, Printer, 1818.

DISTRICT OF VERMONT, To wit. (L. S.) Be it remembered, that on the twenty-fifth day of January, in the forty-second year of the Independence of the United States of America, HORACE STEELE, of the said District, hath deposited in this office, the title of a Book, the right whereof, he claims as Proprietor, in the words following, to wit: "The Indian Captive; or a narrative of the captivity and sufferings of Zadock Steele. Related by himself. To which is prefixed, an account of the burning of Royalton. Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers? Tell ye your children of it, and let your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children, another generation.—Joel." In conformity to the act of Congress of the United States, entitled, "An act for the encouragement of learning, by securing the copies of Maps, Charts, and Books to the authors and proprietors of such copies, during the times therein mentioned." JESSE GOVE, Clerk of the District of Vermont.

ADVERTISEMENT. The Author of this work, neither seeks, nor expects praise. To preserve in memory the sufferings of our fathers, is the principal object of its publication. As no particular account of the burning of Royalton, had ever before been published, it was thought advisable that it should be prefixed to the "Narrative," which was about to be printed. The great confusion which prevailed on that dreadful day; the long lapse of time since the event; the disadvantages resulting from the fraility of human recollection, and the writer's inexperience, is the only apology he offers for the imperfections of the Work. For the information respecting this tragical scene, he is indebted to the goodness of General Stevens, Colonel Edson, and others, who were eye-witnesses.

BURNING OF ROYALTON

As an union of interest always strengthens the bonds of affection; so a participation in extreme sufferings will never fail to produce a mutual sensibility. Prompted by a generous glow of filial love and affection, we generally take delight in surveying whatever gave our forefathers joy; and are ready to drop a sympathetic tear, when we review the sufferings which they have undergone. But, contrary to the laws of sympathy, and justice, the attention of the public is often engrossed with accounts of the more dreadful conflagrations of populous cities in foreign countries, or the defeat of armies in the field of carnage; while the destruction of small frontier settlements, by the Indian tribes, in our own country, is, at the same time, little known, if not entirely forgotten. Thus, the miseries of our neighbors and friends around us, whose bitter cries have been heard in our streets, are too often suffered to pass unnoticed down the current of time into the tomb of oblivion.

The burning of Royalton was an event most inauspicious and distressing to the first settlers of that town. Nor is it a little strange, that, among the numerous authors, who have recorded the events of the American revolution, some of them have not given place in their works to a more full detail of that afflictive scene. Laboring under all the difficulties and hardships to which our infant settlements were generally subject; and striving by persevering industry to soar above every obstacle, which might present itself to obstruct their progress; they had filled their barns with the fruits of the land; their store-houses were crowded with the comforts of life, and all nature seemed to wear a propitious smile. All around them promised prosperity. They were far removed from the noise of war, and, though conscious of their danger, fondly hoped they should escape the ravages of a savage foe. Royalton was chartered in the year 1779. A considerable settlement, however, had taken place previous to that time; and the town was in a thriving condition. Large stocks of cattle, which would confer honor upon the enterprise of farmers in old countries, were here seen grazing in their fields. United by common interest; living on terms of friendship, and manifesting that each one in a good degree "loved his neighbor as himself," harmony prevailed in their borders; social happiness was spread around their firesides; and plenty crowned their labors. But, alas! the dreadful reverse remains to be told! While joys possessed, were turned to sorrows, their hopes for joys to come, were blasted. And as the former strongly marked the grievous contrast between a state of prosperity and affliction; the latter only showed the fallacy of promising ourselves the future.

On the morning of the 16th of October, A. D. 1780—before the dawn of day, the inhabitants of this town were surprised by the approach of about three hundred Indians, of various tribes. They were led by the Caghnewaga tribe, and had left Canada, intending to destroy Newbury, a town in the eastern part of Vermont, on Connecticut River. A British Lieutenant by the name of Horton, was their chief commander, and one LeMott, a Frenchman, was his second. Their pilot or leader, was a despicable villain, by the name of Hamilton, who had been made prisoner, by the Americans at the taking of Burgoyn, in 1777. He had been at Newbury and Royalton the preceding summer, on parole of honor, left the latter place with several others under pretence of going to survey lands in the northern part of this State, and went directly to the enemy. He was doubtless the first instigator of those awful depredations which were the bitter fruits of this expedition, and ought to stamp his name with infamy and disgrace.

On their way thither, 'tis said, they came across several men from Newbury, who were engaged in hunting, near the place where Montpelier Village now stands, and made them prisoners. They made known their object to these hunters, and enquired of them whether an armed force was stationed at Newbury. Knowing the defenceless state of that town, and hoping they should be able to induce the Indians to relinquish their object and return to Canada, they told them that such an armed garrison was kept at Newbury, as would render it extremely dangerous for them to approach. Thus artfully dissembling by ambiguity of expression, the true condition of their fellow townsmen, and like Rahab the harlot, saved their father's house from destruction. Unwilling, however, that their expedition should prove wholly fruitless, they turned their course to Royalton. No arguments which the prisoners could adduce, were sufficient to persuade them from that determination. Following up Onion River as far as the mouth of Stevens' branch, which empties into the river at Montpelier, they steered their course through Barre, at that time called Wildersburg; proceeded up Gaol branch, which forms a part of Stevens' branch, and travelled over the mountains, through Orange and Washington; thence down the first branch of White River, through Chelsea and Tunbridge to Royalton. They laid in their encampment at Tunbridge, not far distant from Royalton, during the Sabbath, the day preceding their attack upon the latter place, for the purpose of concerting measures, to carry into effect their atrocious and malignant designs. Here we matured those diabolical seeds of depredation and cruelty, from which sprang bitterness, sorrow, and death!

As they entered the town before day light appeared, darkness covered their approach, and they were not discovered till Monday morning, at dawn of day, when they entered the house of Mr. John Hutchinson, who resided not far from the line, separating Royalton from Tunbridge. He was totally ignorant of their approach, and wholly unsuspicious of danger, till they burst the door upon him. Here they took Mr. John Hutchinson, and Abijah Hutchinson, his brother, prisoners, and plundered the house; crossed the first branch, and went to the house of Mr. Robert Havens, who lived at a small distance from Mr. Hutchinson's. Mr. Havens had gone out into his pasture in pursuit of his sheep; and having ascended a hill about forty rods from his house, hearing his neighbor Hutchinson's dog bark, halted, and stood in pensive silence. Here he listened with deep anxiety to know the extent of the evil he feared. But alas! he little expected to find a herd of savage men. It was his only fear that some voracious animal was among his sheep. which so disturbed the watchful dog. While he listened in silence, with his toughts suspended, he heard a noise, as of sheep or cattle running, with full speed, through the water. Casting his eye to the west, towards his own dwelling, he beheld a company of Indians, just entering the door! Seeing his own danger, he immediately laid down under a log, and hid himself from their sight. But he could not hide sorrow from his mind. Here he wept! Tears trickling down his withered cheeks, bespoke the anguish of his soul, while he thought upon the distress of his family. With groanings unutterable he lay awhile; heard the piercing shrieks of his beloved wife, and saw his sons escaping for their lives.

Bath'd in tears the hoary sage
In sorrow lay conceal'd; while death
In frightful form, stood thick around him,
With bow-bent readiness, and arrows dip'd
In venom, promiscuous flying.
Vigilence with his years had fled,
And hope was almost out of sight;
Safety quite gone, and far beyond his reach.

Laden with the weight of years, decriped and infirm, he was sensible if he appeared in sight, it would prove his death. He therefore resolved not to move until a favorable opportunity presented. His son, Daniel Havens, and Thomas Pember, were in the house, and made their appearance at the door, a little before the Indians came up. Beholding the foe but few rods distant, they run for their lives. Daniel Havens made his escape by throwing himself over a hedge fence, down the bank of the branch, and crawling under a log; although a large number of the Indians passed directly over it, in pursuit of him. Who can tell the fears that agitated his bosom, while these savage pursuers stepped upon the log under which he lay! And who can tell the joys he felt, when he saw them pass off, leaving him in safety! A quick transition from painful fear, and iminent danger, to joyful peace and calm retirement. They pursued Thomas Pember, till they came so near as to throw a spear at him, which pierced his body, and put an end to his existence. He run some time, however, after he was wounded, till by loss of blood, he fainted, fell, and was unable to proceed farther. The savage monsters came up, several times thrust a spear through his body, took off his scalp, and left him, food for worms! While they were tearing his scalp from his head, how did his dying groans pierce the skies and call on Him, who holds the scales of justice, to mark their cruelty, and avenge his blood! He had spent the night previous at the house of Mr. Havens, engaged in amorous conversation with the daughter of Mr. Havens, who was his choice companion, the intended partner of his life.

". . . What jealous cars
Hang on his parting soul to think his love
Expos'd to wild oppression and a herd
Of savage men:" while himself lay
With his eyes uplifted, fainting, doom'd
To wait, and feel the fatal blow.

By imagination we view the fair survivor, surrounded by the savage tribe, whose frightful aspect threatened ruin; her soul o'erwhelmed with fear, and stung with grief, bereft of her dearest friend. Hear her exclaiming, with sorrowful accents, in the language of the Poet:

"You sacred mourners of a nobler mould,
Born for a friend whose dear embraces hold
Beyond all nature's ties; you that have known
Two happy souls made intimately one,
And felt the parting stroke; 'tis you must feel
The smart, the twinges, and the racks I feel;
This soul of mine, that dreadful wound has borne
Off from its side its dearest half is torn,
The rest lies bleeding, and but lives to mourn."

They made the house of Mr. Havens their rallying point, or post of observation, and stationed a part of their company there to guard their baggage, and make preparations for retreat, when they had completed their work of destruction. Like the messenger of death, silent and merciless, they were scarcely seen till felt. Or, if seen, filled the mind with terror, nor often afforded opportunity for escape. Moving with violent steps, they proceeded down the first branch to its mouth, while a number armed with spears, led the van, and were followed by others, armed with muskets and scalping knives. The former they called runners, who were directed to kill all those who should be overtaken in an attempt to escape, while the latter were denominated gunners, took charge of the prisoners, and scalped those who were killed. They had not proceeded far before a young man by the name of Elias Button, being ignorant of their approach, made his appearance in the road, but a few rods from them. Espying his danger, he turned and ran with the greatest possible speed in his power, to escape their cruel hands. The savage tribe pursued him with their usual agility; soon overtook the trembling youth; pierced his body with their spears; took off his scalp, and left him weltering in his gore! Young, vigorous, and healthy, and blest with the brightest hopes of long life, and good days; he was overtaken by the merciless stroke of death, without having a minutes warning. Innocence and bravery were no shield, nor did activity secure him a safe retreat. That they might be enabled to fall upon the inhabitants, unawares, and thereby secure a greater number of prisoners, as well as procure a greater quantity of plunder, they kept profound silence till they had arrived at the mouth of the branch.

After killing Pember and Button, and taking such plunder as most pleased their fancy, they proceeded to the house of Joseph Kneeland, who resided about half a mile distant from the house of Mr. Havens. Here they found Messrs. Simeon Belknap, Giles Gibbs, and Jonathan Brown, together with Joseph Kneeland and his aged father, all of whom they made prisoners. They then went to the house of Mr. Elias Curtis, where they took Mr. Curtis, John Kent and Peter Mason. Mrs. Curtis had just waked from the slumbers of the night, and was about dressing herself as she sat upon her bed, when the savage monsters entered the door, and one of them instantly flew at her with a large knife in his hand, and seized her by the neck, apparently intending to cut her throat. While in the very attitude of inflicting the fatal wound, the murderous wretch discovered a string of gold beads around her neck, which attracted his attention and prevented the dreadful stroke of death. Thus his avidity for gold allayed his thirst for human blood. His raging passions were suddenly cooled; curiosity restrained his vengeance, and spared the life of the frightened object of his cruelty. He had put the knife to her throat, and eternity seemed open to her view, but instead of taking her life, he only took her beads, and left her rejoicing at her deliverance. The barbarous looks of the wicked crew bespoke their malignant designs, and caused horror and dismay to fill the minds of all who beheld them. But alas! who can tell what horror thrilled the bosom of this trembling woman! What fearful pangs were made to pierce her soul! Behold the tawny wretch, with countenance wild, and awful grimaces, standing by her bed-side, holding her by the throat, with one hand, and the weapon of death in the other! See, standing around her a crowd of brutal savages, the sons of violence; foul tormentors. In vain do I attempt to paint the scene. Nor will I pretend to describe the feelings of a kind and tender mother, who, reposing in the arms of sleep, with her infant at her bosom, is roused from her slumbers by the approach of a tribe of savage Indians, at her bed-side.

"No dangers seen; no fear to raise a sigh;
No dangers fear'd; and yet was ruin nigh.
Dark was the night, and scarce a trembling breeze
Was heard to whisper thro' the neighboring trees.
When to sleep's arms the household was withdrawn,
To rest in safety till the morrow's dawn;
The morrow dawns and blushes at the sight
Of bloody scenes, that shun detecting light;
Urg'd by a nameless thirst for human prey.
A savage band approach'd where beauty lay;
Where innocence, and youth, and age reclin'd

In sleep, refreshing as the southern wind.
To sire, though bending with a load of years,
To save his daughter—every danger dares;
By some rough hand this ancient hero dies—
The trembling mother for her husband sighs;
Sighs and entreats to spare her infant's life,
Her sighs they hear, and spare him—with the knife.
Pleas'd with the charm of beauty drench'd in tears,
The savage tribe to gloomy desarts bears
The weeping mother, void of all defence,
Save what she hoped from Heav'n and innocence."

To prevent an alarm from being sounded abroad, they commanded the prisoners to keep silence, on pain of death. While the afflicted inhabitants beheld their property wasted, and their lives exposed to the arrows of death, it caused their hearts to swell with grief. But they were bebarred the privilege of making known their sufferings to their nearest friends, or even to pour out their cries of distress, while surrounded by the savage band, whose malevolent appearance could not fail to spread fear and distress in every bosom. They plundered every house they found till they arrived at the mouth of the branch. Here the commander, a British officer, took his stand with a small party of Indians, while some went up, and others down, on each side of the river, to complete the work of destruction. They had already taken several horses, which some of them rode, to facilitate their march and enable them to overtake those who attempted to make their escape. Frightened at the horrible appearance of their riders, who were in no way qualified to manage them, the horses served rather to impede, than hasten their progress. Instigated by "the powers of darkness;" fired with rage; eager to obtain that booty which they acquired by the pillage of houses; and fearful at the same time, that they should themselves fall a prey to the American forces, they pursued their ravages with infuriated zeal, and violence and horror attended their movement.

"Uproar, revenge, and rage, and hate appear
In all their murderous forms; and flame and blood,
And sweat, and dust array the dread campaign
In horror; hasty feet, and sparkling eyes,
And all the savage passions of the soul,
Engage in the warm business of the day."

Gen. Elias Stevens, who resided in the first house on the river above the mouth of the branch, had gone down the river about two miles, and was engaged at work with his oxen and cart. While busily employed in loading his cart, casting his eye up the river, he beheld a man approaching, bare-headed with his horse upon the run; who, seeing Gen. Stevens, cried out "for God's sake, turn out your oxen, for the Indians are at the mill." Gen.

Stevens hastened to unyoke his oxen, turned them out, and immediately mounted his horse, and started to return to his family, filled with fearful apprehensions for the fate of his beloved wife, and tender offspring! He had left them in apparent safety, reposing in the arms of sleep. Having proceeded on his return, about half way home, he met Capt. Joseph Parkhurst, who informed him that the Indians were but a few rods distant, in swift pursuit down the river, and that unless he returned immediately he would inevitably fall into their hands. Apprized of his danger, he turned, and accompanied the Captain down the river. Conjugal and paternal affection alone can suggest to the imagination of the reader, what were the feelings of Gen. Stevens, when compelled for his own safety, to leave the wife of his bosom, and their little ones, to the mercy of a savage foe! What pains did he feel when he found himself deprived of all possible means to afford them relief! Nor could he expect a more favorable event, than to find them all sacrificed at the shrine of savage barbarity! Who, not totally devoid of sympathy, can refrain to drop a tear, as he reflects upon those painful emotions, which agitated the General's breast, when he was forced to turn his back upon his beloved family, while thus exposed to danger! Indeed, it was his only source of consolation, that he might be able to afford assistance to his defenceless neighbors. And as they soon came to the house of Deacon Daniel Rix, he there found opportunity to lend the hand of pity. Gen. Stevens took Mrs. Rix and two or three children with him upon his horse; Capt. Parkhurst took Mrs. Benton, and several children upon his horse with him, and they rode off as fast as possible, accompanied by Deacon Rix and several others on foot, till they arrived at the place where the General first received the alarm. Filled with anxiety for his family, and not having seen any Indians, Gen. Stevens, here concluded again to return, hoping he should be able to reach home in time to secure his household from danger, before the Indians arrived. Leaving Mrs. Rix and children in the care of a Mr. Burroughs, he started for home and had proceeded about half a mile, when he discovered the Indians in the road ahead of him, but a few rods distant. He quickly turned about; hastened his retreat; soon overtook the company he had left, and entreated them immediately to leave the road and take to the woods to prevent being taken. Those who were on foot jumped over the fence, hastened to the woods, out of sight of the Indians, where they remained in safety, undiscovered by the savage foe, who kept the road in pursuit of General Stevens. He passed down the road about half a mile, and came to the house of Mr. Tilly Parkhurst, his father in law. Seeing his sister engaged in milking by the barn, he "told her to leave her cow immediately or the Indians would have her," and left her to secure her own retreat.—They were now in plain sight, not more than eighty or a hundred rods off. The road was full of them, running like blood-hounds.—The General rode to the house, told them to run for their lives, and proceeded to warn others who lived contiguous. By this time the way was filled with men, women and children, and a large body of Indians in open view, but just behind them. The savage tribe now began to make the surrounding wilderness re-echo with their frightful yells. Frightened and alarmed for their safety, children clung to their parents, and half distracted mothers, filled with fearful apprehensions of approaching destruction, were heard to make the air resound with their cries of distresss! Gen. Stevens endeavored to get them into the woods, out of sight of the Indians. Fear had usurped the power of reason, and wisdom's voice was drowned in the torrent of distraction. There was no time for argument. All was at stake. The enemy hard by, and fast approaching.—Defenceless mothers, with helpless infants in their arms, fleeing for their lives! Despair was spread before them, while the roaring flood of destruction, seemed rolling behind them! Few could be persuaded to go into the woods, and most of them kept the road till they arrived at the house of Capt. E. Parkhurst, in Sharon. Here they halted a moment to take breath, hoping they should not be pursued any farther. The Indians being taken up in plundering the houses, had now fallen considerably in the rear. But the unhappy victims of distress, had not long been here, when the cruel pursuers again appeared in sight. Screaming and crying, now witnessed the horrors of that dreadful scene. Groans and tears bespoke the feelings of a heart agitated with fear, and swollen with grief! There was not time to be lost. While they waited, they waited for destruction. Children hanging to their mother's clothes; mothers enquiring what they should do, and calling for assistance; floods of tears, and piercing shrieks, all presented to view a most painful scene.—Seeing the Indians approaching with hideous yells, that thrilled the heart of every one, Gen. Stevens put his mother and his sister upon his own horse; Capt. Joseph Parkhurst put Mrs. Rix and three of her children upon another horse, without a bridle, and ordered them to hasten their flight. There yet remained the wife of Capt. E. Parkhurst, who stood in the most critical situation, in which a woman can be placed; begging and crying for help; surrounded by six small children, clinging to her clothes, and pleading with her for protection; Alas! how awful was the spectacle, how affecting the scene! To see a woman in this deplorable condition, pleading for succour, when none could help; when safety and support had fled; and dangers rushing upon her! a heart not devoid of sympathy, could not fail to weep! Conscious of her wretched situation; feeling for her dear children; being told there was no probability for her escape; gathering her little ones around her she wept in bitterness of soul; tears of pity ran down her cheeks, while she waited the approach of the savage tribe to inflict upon her, whatever malice could invent, or inhumanity devise! Her husband, to whom she fain would have looked for protection, was gone from home, when all her woes fell upon her! Well might she say "Therefore are my loins filled with pain; pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth," "my heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me; the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me." While Mrs. Parkhurst saw her friends and neighbors fleeing from her; and beheld the Indians approaching with impetuous step; her bosom throbed with anguish; horror seized her soul; and death! immediate death, both to her and her children, "stood thick around her," threatening to thrust his dagger into her aching heart. There was no time to decide on the priority of claims to pity, or the demands of justice. Those who were nearest at hand first received assistance; not however, without regard to that affection which arises from consanguinity or matrimonial connection. And these relations not only unite the hearts, but connect the hands in scenes of distress. At the time Gen. Stevens put his mother and sister upon his horse, the Indians were not eight rods from him. They, in company with Mrs. Rix and her children, rode off as fast as possible. The General followed with several others on foot. Part of the Indians pursued them, while others entered the house, and plundered it of its furniture. They took her eldest son from her, then ordered her, with the rest of her children, to leave the house. She accordingly repaired into the fields back of the house, with five of her children, and remained in safety till they had left the place. Soon after Gen. Stevens started, his dog came in his way, and caused him to stumble and fall; which so retarded his progress that he was obliged to flee to the woods for safety, leaving the women and children to make the best of their retreat. The Indians pursued down the road after them, with frightful yells, and soon overtook those who were on foot. They took Gardner Rix, son of Deacon Rix, a boy about fourteen years old, just at the heels of his mother's horse; while she was compelled to witness the painful sight. Alas! what distress and horror filled her bosom, when she, with three of her children, no less dear than herself, fleeing from the savage foe, mounted upon a horse, snorting with fear, having nothing but a pocket handkerchief in his mouth for a bridle, saw her wearied son, faint for want of breath, fall a captive to this barbarous crew! Cruel fate! The trembling youth, overwhelmed with fear, and bathed in tears, was now torn from his tender parents, and compelled to roam the wilderness to unknown regions! Nor was the disconsolate mother, with her other little ones, left in a much more safe condition. Exposed, and expecting every step to fall to the ground, which, if it proved not their death, would leave them a prey to the savage monsters! No tongue can tell the pains she felt, nor pen describe the horrors of her soul! To behold her little son, while fleeing for his life, fall into the hands of these sons of cruelty, what kind and tender mother, would not feel her heart to bleed! May we not listen to the voice of imagination, and hear her say:

> "Oh! infinite distress! such raging grief
> Should command pity, and despair relief,
> Passion, methinks should rise from all my groans,
> Give sense to rocks, and sympathy to stones."

The Indians pursued the woman and children as far as the house of Mr. Benedict, the distance of about a mile. The effected their escape, though surrounded with dangers, and pursued with impetuous and clamorous steps. Here they discovered Mr. Benedict on the opposite side of a stream called broad-brook, which ran near the house. They beckoned to have him come over to them. Choosing, however, not to hazard the consequences of yielding obedience to their request; he turned and ran a short distance and hid himself under a log. He had not long been in this situation, when those blood-thirsty wretches, came, and stood upon the same log, and were heard by him to exclaim in angry tone, "if they could find him, he should feel the tomahawk." After standing upon the log some time, and endeavoring to espy the concealed, trembling object of their pursuit; they left him and returned to the house. Ah! what joy filled his bosom, when he saw these messengers of death pass away leaving him in safety! How must his heart have glowed with gratitude towards the "Great Preserver of men," at this unexpected deliverance from the most iminent danger. His joys, however, were not unmingled with sorrow, as the fell destroyers were still at his house, committing ravages and wasting his property. But no man can be supposed to put his property in competition with his life. The Indians pursued down the river about forty rods farther where they made a young man, by the name of Avery, prisoner, and then concluded to return. While they were at the house of Tilly Parkhurst, aforementioned, which was about six miles from the place they entered Royalton, his son Phineas Parkhurst, who had been to alarm the people on the east side of the river, just as he entered the stream on his return, discovered the Indians at his father's door. Finding himself in danger, he immediately turned to go back, and the Indians just at this time happened to see him, and fired upon him. This was the first gun they fired after they entered the town. The ball entered his back, went through his body, came out under his ribs, and lodged in the skin. Notwithstanding the wound, he was however, able to ride, and continued his retreat to Lebanon, in the State of New-Hampshire, the distance of about sixteen miles, with very little stop, supporting the ball between his fingers. He now resides in that town, and sustains the character of a useful physician, and an industrious, independent farmer.

That parry of Indians, which went down on the east side of the river, extended their ravages as far as the house of Capt. Gilbert, in Sharon, where a public house is now kept, by Capt. Dana. Here they took a nephew of Captain Gilbert, by the name of Nathaniel Gilbert, a boy about fifteen years of age.—They now resolved to return, and commenced that waste of property, which tracked their progress. As they retraced their steps, they set fire to all the buildings they found, of every description. They spread desolation and distress wherever they went. Houses filled with furniture, and family supplies for the winter; barns stored with fruits of industry, and fields stocked with herds of cattle, were all laid waste. They shot and killed fourteen fat oxen in one yard; which, in consequence of the inhabitants being dispersed were wholly lost. Cows, sheep, and hogs; and indeed every creature designed by the God of nature, to supply the wants of man, which came within their sight, fell a prey to these dreadful spoilers. Parents torn from their children; husbands separated from their wives; and children snatched from their parents, presented to view an indiscribable scene of wretchedness and distress."
